ABOUT NIKOLAI

Born in Ufa, working in the circus since 1984. The act began as an experiment — balancing on three plastic cups; this is how his roller-board balancing act was born, which caught Moscow's attention and earned the artist a place in the Russian Book of Records. Today his signature act is juggling on a free-standing ladder, without a harness or support.

"Flexible poles" is a genre performed by only 3–4 theatres in the world today: Nikolai spotted the idea from a Canadian and Australian circus performing on Palace Square, and spent a year with a partner developing his own version. The "transforming tube" is an act he saw performed by an American artist at a festival in Dubai and bought there on the spot; when the original prop wore out, Nikolai sewed a new one himself, in 6 different colours.

WHY "SHOU BALASHOVA"

Rare genres, almost unseen in Russia

"Flexible poles" is performed by only 3–4 theatres worldwide — a guaranteed fresh act for your programme, not something your guests have already seen ten times.

An official Russian record

The 2009 record in the "Most Fragile Balance" category — a recognisable name that works as its own promotion for your event.

Experience on both big stages and intimate formats

Mikhailovsky Theatre, Mariinsky Theatre, Musical Comedy Theatre — with the same commitment at a closed wedding for 30 guests.

Nikolai performs in person at every venue

Not a franchise and not a stand-in artist — he performs himself, drawing on forty years of ring experience.

Flexible scale — from solo to full production

One artist at a wedding, or a full show with an invited team (such as the circus troupe for "Princess of the Circus" or the paramotor project with aerialists) — tailored to your task and budget.

Zero injuries in his career

Work with full safety compliance — the organiser doesn't have to worry about risks at the venue.

THEATRE & FILM

2023 — "Princess of the Circus" • Musical Comedy Theatre — Choreographer of circus acts and head of the circus troupe: ladder and stilt juggler.

2018 Opera "La Bohème" • Mikhailovsky Theatre — Stilt juggler in the "Fair" scene, later a stunt performer (3-year contract).

— “A Midsummer Night’s Dream” • Mariinsky Theatre — Directed by Claudia Solti, aerial acrobatics staged by David Downie.

He has appeared in more than ten films and TV series, including “The Duelist”, “Bender”, “Vertinsky”, “Captain Volkonogov Escaped” and “The Favourite”.

ACTS

Juggler on a free-standing ladder

Classic — pure equilibristics, 6 min; comic version with audience interaction and prizes — 12 min.

Stilt walker

Fairy-tale and themed costumes for any celebration, live audience interaction.

Flexible poles

A rare genre, performed year-round, indoors and outdoors — 3–4 theatres in the world perform it today.

Transforming tube and Spring Man

6 different tube colours, a hit at weddings and corporate events; a children’s version — a bright space-alien character.

Prize chin-up bar

A simple, exciting audience-interaction act — works well as a warm-up before the main acts.

EVENT FORMATS

Birthdays • weddings • corporate events • city and family celebrations • venue and shopping-centre openings.
Act format, running time and technical requirements are agreed individually for your scenario and venue.

TECHNICAL RIDER • IN BRIEF

An open area for the act — ceiling/canopy height from 4.5 m, a flat, solid surface. For stilt acts with open flame and for “Flexible poles” — separate approval of the site and equipment is required. Full technical rider available on request, as a separate file.

HOW BOOKING WORKS

1. You send a brief: date, city/venue, event format, preferences for the act.
2. Within 1–2 days — a cost estimate and act proposal tailored to your scenario.
3. You agree the details and the technical rider (full version as a separate file, on request).
4. You book the date — and Nikolai performs at your venue.

PRICING

Depends on the act format, running time, date and city — there is no fixed price list, every quote is calculated individually for your scenario. Send a brief to the email below — we’ll reply with a quote within 1–2 days.
